PUBLICATIONS OF THE NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY

REGULAR PUBLICATIONS

In addition to announcements of meetings and various circulars sent to members from time to time, the Society issues a single serial publication entitled The National Geographic Magazine. During the first two years of the existence of the Society this serial was issued in quarterly numbers. With the beginning of the third year of the Society and the third volume of the Magazine the form of publication was changed, and the serial now appears at irregular intervals in parts or brochures (designated by page and designed either for separate preservation or for gathering into volumes) which consist either of single memoirs or of magazine brochures made up of articles, notes, abstracts and other geographic matter, together with the Proceedings and other administrative records of the Society.

The Magazine is mailed free to members of the Society and to exchanges. The complete volumes, as well as the separate brochures of the third, fourth and fifth, are sold at the prices given below, by the Secretary, Mr. Cyrus C. Babb, 1179 F street, Washington, D. C.

Imperial Publications

In the interest of exact bibliography, the Society takes cognizance of all publications issued either wholly or partly under its auspices. Each author of a memoir published in THE NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC MAGAZINE receives 25 copies, and is authorized to order any number of additional copies at a slight advance on the cost of press-work and paper; and these separate brochures are identical with those of the regular edition issued by the Society. Contributors to the magazine brochures are authorized to order any number of copies of their contributions at a slight advance on cost of press-work and paper, provided these separates bear the original pagination and a printed reference to the serial and volume from which they are extracted; but such separates are bibliographically distinct from the brochures issued by the Society. The Magazine is not copyrighted, and articles may be reprinted freely; and a record of reprints, so far as known, is kept.

The following separates from volume V have been issued:

Article V, second paragraph, omit.

Article VI, second paragraph, change "December" to "May." Third paragraph change to read as follows: "The last regular meeting in December shall be set apart for the President's annual address." Fourth paragraph, change "January" to "November and December."

The joint report of the Secretaries was presented and adopted.

The annual report of the Treasurer was presented and referred to an auditing committee consisting of Messrs Rizer, Winston and Flint.

By vote of the Society, the officers elected this date are to hold over until the last regular meeting in May, 1895.

The annual election of officers for the year 1894 was then held, with the following result:

President—Gardiner G. Hubbard.

Vice-Presidents—T. C. Mendenhall (land);

George W. Melville (sea);

A. W. Greely (air);

C. Hart Merriam (life);

W. R. Powell (art);

Henry Gannett (commercial geography).

Treasurer—C. J. Bell.

Recording Secretary—Cyrus C. Babb.

Corresponding Secretary—Eliza R. Seidmore.

Managers—Marcus Baker,

H. F. Blount,

G. K. Gilbert,

Everett Hayden,

John Hyde,

W. J. McGee,

P. H. Newell,

Edwin Willits.

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARIES

(Presented to the Society January 5, 1894)

Membership.—The membership of the Society is now 950 as against 693 of one year ago. Examining in detail the membership, it is found that there are 664 active, 280 corresponding, 9 life, and 2 honorary members. This shows an increase over last year's numbers of 188 active, 72 corresponding, 2 life and 2 honorary.

During the past year there have been 323 new members elected; 34 have resigned, 22 have been dropped for non-payment of dues, and 5 have died, as follows:

Charles Junken, January 24, 1893; Henry C. Swain, March 29, 1893; J. Henry Turner, June 12, 1893; Dr George Vasey, March 4, 1893; Eugene Willenbächer, May 24, 1893. The net increase has therefore been 262.

The death rate in large cities, according to the United States census, for ages corresponding to the average age of our members, is 17 per one thousand. Our death rate is 5, or 1 of the ordinary rate. This shows one of the many important advantages in holding membership in the National Geographic Society, and is a fact which, if enlarged on, should materially increase our membership.

Meetings.—There have been 34 meetings or assemblies of the members of the Society. Of these 15 were regular meetings and 19 special. The latter number includes one excursion on May 1 down the Potomac river to Indian Head and Marshall Hall, and a lawn party on June 28 at Twin Oaks, where, by the invitation of the President, 200 members and guests were entertained.

One of the regular meetings was for the election of officers and transaction of business. At the remaining 31 meetings the total attendance was 10,110, averaging 326.

In regard to the places of meetings, the Hall of the Cosmos Club has been used 10 times, the Columbian University once, the National Rifles' Armory hall twice and the Builders' Exchange Hall 18 times.

On July 27 and 28, in connection with the World's Congress of Education, a Conference of European and American geographers was held at the World's Fair, Chicago, under the auspices of the National Geographic Society; its proceedings were marked by a degree of interest and an attendance quite beyond the expectations of the committee; and it is believed that it exercised a material and beneficial influence toward the study of geography in the United States.

Managers.—The Board of Managers have held 22 meetings for the transaction of business of the Society. On June 2, 1893, a change in the By-laws was adopted, facilitating the transaction of business at the meetings of the Board of Managers.

January 5, 1894, another amendment was adopted in conformity with a resolution passed by the Board of Managers: "That hereafter the annual election of officers shall be held at the last regular meeting in May, and that the Society year, for its fiscal operations, publications and lecture courses, shall begin and end with the annual election meeting."

Owing to the rapid growth of the Society, it has become impossible for a volunteer to carry on the duties of Secretary, and the Board of Managers found it necessary to employ a permanent Secretary, to assume office November 1, 1893.

Magazine.—Six brochures have been published during the year, two forming the last two numbers of volume iv and the remainder a portion of volume v.

The Society has on its exchange list about eighty foreign and domestic geographic societies and its library is increasing rapidly.

Special mention should be made of various gifts to the Society library. Mr H. L. Hall, of Washington, District of Columbia, has presented an old and valuable "Ortelius atlas," of date 1595. Honorable Gardiner G. Hubbard presented, among other things, an "Atlas of America," date 1776, and three volumes of Ramusio's "Navigationi et Viaggi," dates 1550, 1559 and 1565, respectively.

From His Imperial Highness the Arch Duke Ludwig Salvator of Austria there have been received 20 volumes of his works devoted to geographic research.

CYRUS C. BAIN,
ELIAS R. SCRIMMAGE,
Secretaries.

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TREASURER

(Presented to the Society January 5, 1894)

To the President and Members of the National Geographic Society:

I have the honor to submit herewith my annual report, showing receipts and disbursements for the year ending January 5, 1894.

The receipts for dues for 1893 amount to $2,626, an increase over the receipts for 1892 of $461.

The assets of the Society are:

REPORT OF THE AUDITING COMMITTEE

(Presented to the Society January 12, 1894)

To the President and Members of the National Geographic Society:

We, a committee appointed at the annual meeting of the Society to audit the accounts of the Treasurer for the year ending January 5, 1894, beg to submit the following report:

The Treasurer's statement of the receipts, consisting of dues from members, interest on investment and sale of magazine, has been examined and found correct, as shown by the books of his office.

The vouchers for expenditures and checks in payment therefor have been examined, compared and found correct.

We have examined the bank book, showing the account with Messrs Bell & Co., and found the cash balance to be three hundred and seven dollars and eighty cents ($307.80), as stated.

The three bonds for $100 each, registered in the name of the Society, were submitted to us for inspection.

H. C. RICE,
ISAAC WINSTON,
WESTON FLINT,
Committee.

BY-LAWS

As Adopted with Amendments up to January 6, 1894.

ARTICLE I. Name.

The name of this Society is the "National Geographic Society."

ARTICLE II. Object.

The object of this Society is the increase and diffusion of geographic knowledge.

ARTICLE III. Membership.

The members of this Society shall be persons who are interested in geographic science. There may be three classes of members—active, corresponding and honorary.

Active members only shall be members of the corporation; shall be entitled to vote and may hold office.

Persons residing at a distance from the District of Columbia may become corresponding members of the Society. They may attend its meetings, take part in its proceedings, and contribute to its publications.

Persons who have attained eminence by the promotion of geographic science may become honorary members.

Corresponding members may be transferred to active membership, and, conversely, active members may be transferred to corresponding membership by the Board of Managers.

The election of members shall be entrusted to the Board of Managers.

ARTICLE IV. Officers.

The officers of the Society shall be a President, six Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, a Recording Secretary and a Corresponding Secretary.

The above-mentioned officers, together with eight other members of the Society, known as Managers, shall constitute a Board of Managers. Officers and Managers shall be elected annually, by ballot, a majority of the votes cast being necessary to an election; they shall hold office until their successors are elected; and shall have power to fill vacancies occurring during the year.

The President, or, in his absence, one of the Vice-Presidents, shall preside at the meetings of the Society and of the Board of Managers; he shall, together with the Recording Secretary, sign all written contracts and obligations of the Society, and attest its corporate seal; he shall deliver an annual address to the Society.

Each Vice-President shall represent in the Society and in the Board of Managers a department of geographic science, as follows:

Geography of the Land; Geography of the Sea; Geography of the Air; Geography of Life; Geographic Art; Commercial Geography.

The Vice-Presidents shall foster their respective departments within the Society; they shall present annually to the Society summaries of the work done throughout the world in their several departments.

They shall be elected to their respective departments by the Society.

The Treasurer shall have charge of the funds of the Society, shall collect the dues, and shall disburse under the direction of the Board of Managers; he shall make an annual report; and his accounts shall be audited annually by a committee of the Society and at such other times as the Board of Managers may direct.

The Secretaries shall record the proceedings of the Society and of the Board of Managers; shall conduct the correspondence of the Society; and shall make an annual report.

The Board of Managers shall transact all the business of the Society, except such as may be presented at the annual meeting. It shall formulate rules for the conduct of its business. Five members of the Board of Managers shall constitute a quorum at regular meetings and nine members at special meetings.

ARTICLE V. DUES.

The annual dues of active members shall be five dollars, and of corresponding members two dollars, payable during the month of January, or, in the case of new members, within thirty days after election.

Annual dues may be commuted and life membership acquired by the payment of fifty dollars.

No member in arrears shall vote at the annual meeting, and the names of members two years in arrears shall be dropped from the roll of membership.

ARTICLE VI. MEETINGS.

Regular meetings of the Society shall be held on alternate Fridays, from November until May, and excepting the annual meeting they shall be devoted to communications. The Board of Managers shall, however, have power to postpone or omit meetings, when deemed desirable. Special meetings may be called by the President.

The annual meeting for the election of officers shall be the last regular meeting in May.

The last meeting in December shall be set apart for the President's annual address.

The reports of the retiring Vice-Presidents shall be presented in November and December.

A quorum for the transaction of business shall consist of twenty-five active members.

ARTICLE VII. AMENDMENTS.

These by-laws may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the members present at a regular meeting, provided that notice of the proposed amendment has been given in writing at a regular meeting at least four weeks previously.
